The board and director's legal roles and liabilities

Frameworks for enhancing board effectiveness

Governance Training for Listed Company Director

At present, corporate governance plays a crucial role in business growth and sustainability, and the board of directors is the driving force behind every company's good corporate governance. However, the survey from Director Certification Program (DCP) finds that many directors still do not fully understand their roles according to the fiduciary duties and CG Code which are the backbone of director's roles. This can lead to various corporate governance issues as can be seen from examples in the past.

Whether in the cases of leading companies such as WorldCom, Siemens, Toshiba, Blockbuster, ToyRUs or Wells Fargo, they either suffered from conflict of interests, lack of board oversight leading to management's misconduct or imprudence, or the inability to adapt to compete and survive in the changing business environment. These issues do not only affect the company, but also the shareholders and stakeholders.

Director Accreditation Program (DAP) will help you understand why corporate governance and you as a director are the integral part of business success, especially in this era of new challenges. Learn the principles and structures of good corporate governance, the overview of director's roles and responsibilities, and foundational frameworks that will help you oversee legal compliance and drive competitiveness, value creation, and sustainable growth of your company.
